Pearl Harbor Attack Planned Months Ahead

Probing Committee Given
Report Attack Conceived
11 Months Before
Dec. 7, 1941

DETAILED ACCOUNT OF PLANS REVEALED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—(INS)—The Pearl Harbor investigating committee was told today that Japan conceived its sneak attack eleven months in advance and that as early as Oct. 5, 1941, Jap fleet pilots were ordered to strike Pearl Harbor on the fateful morning of Dec. 7.

Official Japanese documents received only last night, disclosed also that the Japanese task force received constant information on U. S. ships at Pearl Harbor. As late as Oct. 5 Japan knew the attacking force learned that there were no carriers in Pearl Harbor but that eight battleships and fifteen cruisers were at anchor, the committee was informed.

Had Pictures Of Naval Base
Each enemy pilot at that time was furnished a photograph of the American naval base upon which the fliers noted the location of individual U. S. war ships.

The committee learned that the assault plan was formally relayed to all Jap naval commanders on Nov. 5, 1941.

From interrogation of a Jap officer it was disclosed that a meeting of about 100 Japanese officer pilots aboard two carriers, the fliers were told secretly that the Japanese naval air force would strike the American fleet at Hawaii on Dec. 8 (Japanese time).

Fleet Admiral Yamamoto, the committee learned, told fliers at that meeting that "although Japan did not want to fight the United States," she would be defeated under the American economic embargo.

The detailed and dramatic account, pieced together from captured documents and interrogation of both war prisoners and former Jap naval commanders since V-J day, was given the committee by the U. S. Navy.

It disclosed for the first time the chronology of preparation, the flawless execution and the sources of the attack.

PA NEWCO OBSERVES

According to reports from New York the job of being Santa Claus in the big stores and other institutions in the metropolis has reverted exclusively to men this holiday period. Last year and the preceding year, many women doubled in for Santa Claus in the stores of Gotham.

Activity in downtown really in the past few weeks indicates that there is a lot of confidence in the future of New Castle. Several unusually large realty deals have been reported, and some others are pending.

While the regular Thanksgiving days are being arranged for next Wednesday night and Thursday morning, many of the services in churches of the community will emphasize the Thanksgiving season in the programs of Sunday.

According to report of the state game commission a total of 114,797 pheasants was bagged by hunters of the state last hunting season. Probably many more were shot that were not officially reported. It is not believed that the kill will be as large this season, for hunting conditions are not so good.

Care of the war wounded is costly. Pushing the Victory Loan Drive over the top will help to defray expenses necessary to return these men to a better position in life.

Several Hundred Yanks Get 'Ike's' Autograph In Pittsburgh R. R. Yard

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Several hundred soldiers and sailors, from the battles of Okinawa and Saipan, today were proudly displaying autographs from the man whose strategy beat the Germans—General Dwight D. Eisenhower.

They met unexpectedly in a Pittsburgh railroad yard, when the general's car was switched alongside a troop train.

The G. I.'s leaning from the troop train window and wondering who the "big shot" was. Told it was General Eisenhower they came out in droves. They were dirty, disheveled, tired. Only a few were fully clothed. One was in shorts only and the general inquired, solicitously:

"Aren't you cold?"
The soldier retorted:
"I can take it. I never expected to see you."

"Hey Eisenhower Sign This"
In the rush for autographs, a sailor shoved a slip of paper up the car and yelled:
"Hey, Eisenhower sign this!"
Catching himself, he hurriedly added:
"I mean general sir."

Ralph Sankey's Disappearance On October 28 Remains Unsolved Mystery

Disappearance of Ralph Sankey, aged 70 years, of 457 E. Washington street, first reported on Sunday, October 28, remains as deep a mystery as ever today. No clue as to his whereabouts or fate has been received, and nothing has been learned that would indicate what has happened to him, it was revealed today.

Members of the family have been active in every manner they could devise in an effort to find trace of Mr. Sankey, but his disappearance is completely unsolved.

On Sunday morning, October 28, he stepped out of the doorway of the home of his daughter, Mrs. Leola Keith, of East Washington street, where he made his home, remarking that he was "going to take a walk."

Nothing has been heard or seen of him since.

Trial In Absentia
For Deputy Fuehrer
Borman Is Decried

Allied Military Tribunal Not Convinced That Borman's Death Report Is Correct

NUERNBERG, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Trial in Absentia of Deputy Fuehrer Martin Borman was ordered today as the first public session of the Allied military tribunal which will try top-ranking Nazis for wartime crimes against humanity.

The United States, Britain, France and Russia joined in asking Borman be tried despite eyewitness testimony he was killed while crossing a bridge over the river spire in Berlin. The court ruled other evidence left the "probability he still is alive."

Meanwhile, arrival of Soviet Maj. Gen. I. T. Nikitenko, completed the complement of judges for the trial whose opening date depends on whether Alfred Krupp von Bohlen und Halbach is substituted as a defendant for his ailing munitions-making father Gustav.

LUENEBURG, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Josef Kramer, chief guard at the Belsen and Oswiecim (Auschwitz) concentration camps who became known as the "Beast Of Belsen" through the cruel and inhuman treatment of prisoners, today was sentenced to death by hanging.

Condemned to die with Kramer by hanging was the chief woman guard at the camp, blonde Irma Grese, pictured by the defense as a gentle, considerate woman, the court accepted proof of the prosecution that she was responsible for atrocious treatment of her woman charges.

Dr. Fritz Klein, the chief doctor at the camps who was responsible for the choice of victims sent to gas chambers for extermination, also was sentenced to be hanged.

Sentences were meted out today after the British military court announced yesterday that it had found 30 of 45 defendants guilty. The case against one was dropped and 14 others were acquitted.

Trial Is Rejected

Allied War Crimes Tribunal Declines To Include Alfred Krupp In List For Trial

NUERNBERG, Nov. 17.—(INS)—The Allied war crimes tribunal declined to include Alfred Krupp as a defendant in the forthcoming trial of Nazi war criminals.

Alfred had been suggested as a substitute for his ailing and ill father, Gustav Krupp von Bohlen und Halbach, head of the vast Krupp munitions empire.

The court's decision means that there will be no delay in the start of the trial of 22 top Nazis accused which is scheduled to begin Tuesday.

At a sitting lasting only two minutes, the court declared it had considered all aspects of the inclusion of Alfred Krupp among those to face trial.

Gen. DeGaulle To Carry Political Crisis To Nation

Letter Indicating Determination To Resign As Interim President Made Public

MAJOR CABINET
POSTS IN DISPUTE

By LEON PEARSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Nov. 17.—Gen. Charles DeGaulle's letter to the constituent assembly indicating his determination to resign as interim president of France rather than yield major cabinet posts to the communist party was made public today.

At the same time the government announced that DeGaulle would carry the political crisis to the nation in a broadcast scheduled for 3 p. m. this afternoon (EST).

Blames Communists
It was believed the interim president would use his great personal prestige in an attempt to weaken the position of the communist party, which he blamed fully for the deadlock.

Communist leaders had demanded either the war, foreign affairs or interior minister portfolios which DeGaulle declared previously would be refused.

Yokoyama, introduced by the prosecution in a surprise move, was questioned for four hours.

He admitted that he was under Yamashita's command, but denied that Yamashita had ever given orders for the burning of Manila or the ruthless murder of Filipino civilians.

Help Finish Our War Job

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Irving S. Olds, board chairman, U. S. Steel Corp., said today that it's the responsibility of every American to help the government finish the job by buying Victory bonds. His statement follows:
"To the millions of American servicemen who are still overseas and the hundreds of thousands who remain in hospitals here and abroad, peace will not assume its true meaning for some months to come. Just as it was the obligation of every American to give maximum support to the government while the fighting continued, it remains our responsibility to help the government finish its job by lending support to the limit of our ability in the Victory loan drive."

Admiral Also Voices Opposition To Creation Of Independent Air Force

SENATE HEARING

By ARTHUR J. HERMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Admiral Chester W. Nimitz voiced his determined opposition today to either a merger of the Army and Navy or the creation of an independent air force.

Following Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as a witness before the senate military affairs committee, Nimitz presented detailed arguments to support his contention that the two war arms should be retained as separate entities.

Nimitz, who was called commander in the central Pacific presented testimony that appeared designed to rebut the contention of Gen. (Continued on Page Two)

Against Single Department

I am now convinced that a single department will not work as well as the two separate departments have proved they can work in harmony during the kinds of forces required for modern war.

"I am also convinced that the merging of the war and navy departments into a single department cannot help and may hinder the adequate provision and efficient use of our resources."

Nimitz, who is expected to be the navy's next commander in chief of the fleet took the occasion of his appearance before the senate to explain his own view on the question of whether to merge or consolidate the two services.

Restrictions On Scientists Are Being Modified

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Dr. Arthur J. Compton, Nobel prize winning physicist who is to develop the atomic bomb, announced today that government restrictions which prevented scientists from discussing their knowledge of atomic energy are being rapidly removed.

Dr. Compton also was awarded the Franklin medal yesterday at the joint session of the National Academy of Sciences and the American Philosophical society, said he was not familiar with the situation in England where scientists have been complaining that they are being hampered by government restrictions.

"But of U. S. restrictions are being removed and the scientists are talking as you can see," he added.

Dr. Compton said he believed that the country's scientists should try to promote passage of the current atomic bomb legislation.

"I did not get the last bill," he said, "but for sending one, while not perfect, is a step forward. It is important that scientists should aid in its passage."

of information—including Hawaiian espionage reports via "uncensored cable"—which made the Jap attack possible.

Committee Row
Another internal committee row developed today when Sen. Brewster (R-Me.) accused the navy's intelligence chief of making an "unqualifiedly false" statement concerning the battleship strength of the United States at the time of the Jap attack.

Admiral T. B. Inglis, the intelligence chief, denied the accusation and a verbal row followed. The account revealed, too, that the attacking fleet's departure order provided for a last-minute cancellation of the plan if the then pending U. S.-Japanese peace negotiations were successful.

Rear Admiral T. B. Inglis, U. S. Chief of Naval Intelligence, told the committee that Jap secret operation order No. 1, issued on Nov. 5, 1941, directed:

"In the east the American fleet will be destroyed and the American lines of operation and supply lines to the Orient will be cut. Enemy forces will be intercepted and annihilated. Victories will be exploited to break the enemy's will to fight."

Japan expected to lose one-third of its force of 72 ships and submarines involved in the surprise operation, Inglis reported.

The admiral said that she actually lost only 27 planes out of 363 involved and five mid-air submarines.

The task force left Hitokappu Bay on Nov. 26 (Nov. 25 Hawaii time), reached its rendezvous point on Dec. 4 (Japan time) and refueled from accompanying tankers, then sped southeast toward Oahu.

At 1:30 p. m. of Dec. 7, at Pearl Harbor and the U. S. Pacific fleet lay in shattered wreckage, the Jap carriers had retrieved their remaining planes, Inglis related. The striking force proceeded to Kure, arriving on Dec. 23.

Inglis reported that the Pearl Harbor attack was originally conceived and proposed in the first part of January 1941 by Admiral Isoroku Yamamoto, commander-in-chief combined fleet.

For the purpose of promoting good will and cooperation between the scientific department of Westminister college and industry in Lawrence county, a dinner meeting will be held Monday night, November 19, in The Carleton Hotel, it was announced today.

Joseph W. Walter, chairman of the evening and the speaker will be Dr. Harry N. Holmes, president of the American Chemical Society and dean of Oberlin College. He is a graduate of Westminister college in the class of 1899.

Dr. Robert P. Galbreath, president of Westminister college, will be no one and speak on "The future of the faculty will also be present."

Although Bolivia is primarily agricultural, its economy is almost entirely dependent on the production of minerals.

NIMITZ OPPOSES ARMY AND NAVY MERGER PROJECT

a merger are unattainable, whereas the disadvantages are so serious that it is not acceptable.

Give Credit To Air Power
He stated that he "particularly" wished to give full credit to air power, but stressed that the strategic airforces should remain under army jurisdiction, with the fleet having its own air arm.

The admiral said it is clear that the existence of the atomic bomb and other new weapons is a most serious problem for the United Nations and for our own government and people. He added:

"If it is used against us it is clear that we must reach out far to sea to prevent it from reaching its target. Pending further knowledge, those charged with the protection of our country have the duty of maintaining adequate naval, air and ground forces for the security of our people and the people of the world."

The present organization for maintaining these forces under a war and navy department is an adequate basis for further progressive development and improvement."

Nimitz declared that he wanted to make four main points in his presentation to the senate committee. The most important, he said, was his "doubt that a single department would assist the adequate and efficient use of sea power."

His second point was a recommendation that the navy be given a separate unit of operational command. He said there should be unity of operational command in particular areas, but declared that this should be settled some other way than through merger.

His third point dealt with "logistics" and "proper economy" in the utilization of the nation's resources for national defense.

Admitting "faults" in the present supply system, he declared that the merger as a solution to this problem is "unacceptably extreme" and "gives no assurance of an adequate solution."

General Eisenhower signed dollar bills, souvenirs of Japanese money, while his name on the backs of field jackets, on railroad, tin snips, souvenir copies of the Jap surrender terms and when half were signed the general stopped and asked:

"Where are you boys going?"

Like a wave came the mass reply: "Home."

A soldier near the steps said: "You're All Right."

"You know, you're all right, a regular Joe."

The general straightened and seriously replied: "You fellows are all right, too. You are the kind who made this."

About that time the "troop train" started to pull out and several were still lingering behind. Lt. Col. James Stack, of the general's staff, admonished:

"Hurry or you'll miss your train."

But the soldiers snapped this with: "We got a lot of time. We can catch a train anytime. We can get this only once in a lifetime."

The general's car which brought him from Washington and a two-day committee hearing in which he spoke for universal military training and unification of army, navy and air forces into one command, was coupled to a train for Chicago.

The general said he expected to return to his command and added that he expected to spend Thanksgiving Day with his staff and troops in Germany.

SECRETARY BYRNES DISCUSSES ATOMIC BOMB SECRET PLAN

wide blessings and not war, were those of international "trade" blocs, which he said "breed distrust and disunity," and make for war.

To Propose Trade Plan

In this connection he announced that the United States would propose the creation of an international trade organization as a structure for the United Nations Organization.

Byrnes helped clear the path for plans to Britain and other nations which he declared were "not to be asserted."

We cannot put Santa Claus in the world but we can make loans to governments whose credit is good and provided such governments will make changes in commercial policies which will make it possible for us to increase our trade with them.

Must Have Cooperation

Commenting on the atomic program agreed upon by President Truman, and Prime Ministers Attlee and Mackenzie King, Byrnes said:

"Without the united effort and unending cooperation of all the nations of the world there will be no enduring and effective protection against the atomic bomb."

Byrnes said that until effective safeguards can be developed in the form of international inspection or otherwise, the secrets of atom production know-how must be held as a sacred trust but he added that this "need not be unnecessarily prolonged."

The secretary said that within 60 days the United Nations Organization can begin to establish a commission to atomic energy as proposed by the Truman-Attlee-Mackenzie King declaration. He hinted that the projected commission might also consider other new weapons of destruction, perhaps bacteria.

Men ought always to pray and not to faint. Luke 18:1. Pray without ceasing. 1 Thess 5:17.

Matt. 5:44. I humbled my soul with fasting, and my prayer returned into mine own bosom. Psal 33:13. Rejoicing in hope, patient in tribulation, continuing instant in prayer. Rom. 12:12. Continue in prayer, and watch in the same with thanksgiving. Col 4:2. And all things, whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive. Matt. 21:22. New Changes In Army Program For Discharges

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—(INS)—The War Department late Friday announced changes in the army demobilization program which will make an additional 783,000 soldiers eligible for discharge on December 1.

The first of next month, G-1's will need 55 points rather than 60 points for discharge; officers 73 instead of 76; and enlisted men now requiring 34 will need only 32.

The action to expedite return home of servicemen introduced length of service as a factor in their discharge and paid special consideration to fathers.

Men who have served four years will be automatically eligible for return to civilian life. G-1's with three or more children under 18 years of age dependent upon them for support will be returned to their homes.

Army officers with four years three months of honorable military service will be eligible for release under the newly introduced length of service factor. The Medical Department was excluded from the army demobilization program.

Will Release Married Wars. Married Wars, regardless of whether they enlisted prior to May 12, 1945, will be free to change into civilian clothes.

A spokesman observed that "All a War has to do now to be ready for discharge from the army is to get married."

The new point scores, as well as the two other major factors, are to be computed as of September 2, 1945.

In addition, previously established factors for discharge of enlisted men and women will remain in effect.

An enlisted man at present is eligible for discharge if:

He is 35, 36, or 37 years of age and has completed two years of honorable military service, or if he is 35 years old.

An enlisted woman presently is eligible for discharge for the same age bracket and length of service.

Millions Released

At the same time, a War Department spokesman said that during November, three million, 500 thousand soldiers will have been discharged since VE-Day. One million servicemen and women will be returned to civilian life this month.

Introduction of the length of service factor was the first step toward ultimately lowering time required for discharge of 18 months, the army said.

Plans now are to end the army point system by March, 1946, and to release personnel at that time on the basis of two years service.

Present objection is to dwindle occupation forces in all theaters to an estimated one million 600 thousand by next August, the bulk of which would be volunteers drawn in through the army's present recruitment drive.

Sheet And Tube Not To Cooperate In Strike Vote

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 17.—The Youngstown Sheet and Tube company today did not plan to cooperate with the National Labor Relations Board in conducting a proposed strike vote among its production workers.

The announcement was made in Youngstown yesterday by J. C. Argesinger, vice president and general counsel, to Oscar S. Smith, director of the NLRB field division.

Argesinger questioned the legality of the board's action in ordering the vote and conducting the election. He said:

"If the vote is taken and a strike results it would be a violation of the existing contract between the company and the union."

Argesinger said he believed the NLRB does not have a legal right to conduct a strike vote in any of the company's plants until the board has determined that the company is a war contractor.

Baby Is Born 20 Minutes After Death Of Mother

Four-Pound Infant Has Good Chance To Survive, Unusual Medical Case

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.—(INS)—A four-pound baby girl delivered in a 30-second cesarean operation was described in "good condition" today and expected to live despite her birth 20 minutes after the mother had died of a heart condition.

The interval between the baby's birth and the death of the mother, Mrs. Mary Zaccaria, 36, was believed by doctors at the Philadelphia Jefferson hospital as the longest on record.

Dr. Allison Price of the hospital's medical staff saw Mrs. Zaccaria immediately after her death and realized that her baby might still be alive, ordered the woman to the operating room, although the infant was not to have been born for six weeks.

The operation was performed by Dr. Irvine P. Uram, 28-year-old obstetrician, who said it was a miracle that the baby had lived because of the mother's heart disease.

Asked whether it was a boy or a girl, the young physician said: "Gosh, I didn't notice."

After being advised by an attendant, he said, "anyway, she's a beautiful baby—a little beauty. I'd like to have her myself."

Mrs. Zaccaria was the mother of four other children.

TRUCKS DELIVER THE GOODS. ALL THE WAY—WITHOUT DELAY

Speed alone is not enough. It is the safety of delivery and the "all-the-wayness" of motor truck delivery that stand it out as the modern method of transportation.

From loading dock to receiving platform, from factory to farm, from warehouse to store door, and no delays in between. That's motor truck transportation.

Over fifty billion ton miles in a year save more than the printed word. The proof of the service is in the hauling, and motor truck transportation is proving it every day, twenty four hours a day.

Trucks deliver the goods. All the way—without delay!

O.P.A. Anticipates Increased Stocks Of Clothing Soon

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—(INS)—The Office of Price Administration today anticipated increased stocks of lower-priced clothing and home furnishings by spring as a result of price increases already granted and in the making.

The price control agency is especially hopeful that a new furniture price schedule expected to be officially announced by December 1 will encourage manufacturers to return to the production of the lowest price items which have virtually gone off the market in the past two years.

An OPA furniture branch spokesman explained that when manufacturers were limited by a War Production Board order to 25 per cent of their pre-war production and prices were frozen at pre-war levels on the low cost items, most manufacturers chose to make only their cost lines, which had greater profit margins.

OPA believes that the new ceilings which will amount generally to about a 15 per cent increase over present wholesale prices will give manufacturers sufficient leeway over present costs to make it worth while to go back to the lower priced field. About one-third of the increase will be passed on to consumers.

Two Big Carriers Will Be Christened

Valley Forge And Princeton, Sister Ships, Will Be Commissioned Sunday

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.—(INS)—The $76 million aircraft carriers Valley Forge and Princeton were scheduled for christening and commissioning, respectively tomorrow at the Philadelphia Navy Yard.

Sister ships, the 27,000-ton carriers were built at the navy yard. Special guests at the twin ceremony were to be 15,000 War Bond workers whose endeavors sold the bonds to build the Valley Forge and many relatives of Navy men lost in the sinking of the light carrier Princeton, for which the new vessel was named.

Mrs. Alexander A. Vandergift, wife of the commandant of the Marine Corps, was to christen the Valley Forge. The Princeton was christened last July.

Two historical relics from Valley Forge's national shrine—a mounted six-pound solid shot and charcoal pig iron—were to be presented to the crew by the Valley Forge Park Commission and War Finance Committee.

Hearing Of Five In Prisoner Escape Case November 30

HARRISBURG, Nov. 17.—(INS)—A hearing of five Dauphin county residents charged with aiding the escape of two German war prisoners, was scheduled tentatively today to be held November 30 at Harrisburg before U. S. Commissioner William S. Middleton.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hodge of Landisburg, R. D. accused of harboring the fugitives, were arrested at their home Thursday night, and their son, Charles, 29, was taken to custody in Philadelphia. George Johnston, 54, of Steelton, and his daughter, Anna Sue Russell, were apprehended yesterday, according to Lloyd A. Arms, Harrisburg agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The prisoners, Kurt Lehart and Heinz Hammecker, both 22, were captured in Philadelphia three weeks after their escape from the Middelburg air depot near Harrisburg August 22. Arms said they had drafted cards, allegedly altered by Johnston.

Middleton said while a warrant was issued at Harrisburg Thursday for young Hodge, he would be detained absent at the hearing. A "fugitive warrant" was required for his arrest in Philadelphia, he explained, and the prosecution would be conducted there.

Relatives here were informed Friday of the death of Sister Mary Gabriel Fehrenbach, daughter of the late Andrew and Jacobina Brink Fehrenbach, pioneer residents of New Castle, which occurred in Cambridge Springs, Friday morning.

She was born in New Castle in 1873 and spent her childhood here, attending St. Mary's school until she entered the Order of the Sisters of Divine Providence in Pitsburgh. She had been located in Cambridge Springs since the opening of the San Rosario Sanitarium there, but had previously taught in many of the schools of the diocese during the 55 years she was associated with the Order of Divine Providence.

She was one of a large family composed of seven brothers and six sisters, the last survivor of which is Mrs. Anna Schneider, of Pitsburgh. There are a great number of nephews and nieces residing here. Funeral services will take place Monday morning, November 19, at 9:30 o'clock from the Motherhouse of the Order of Divine Providence, Allison Park Road, Pitsburgh.

Woman Admits Predicament Due To Wilful Action

Police Chief Robert D. Hanna today reported he, in the presence of a Red Cross official Friday, had interrogated a young woman, resident of a downtown hotel, who claimed she had been criminally assaulted in a Public Square building Thursday morning. He said the girl would not straightforwardly deny her first claim but said she had signed a statement stating that "whatever occurred was the result of her own wilful action."

Here is a copy of her statement furnished a police reporter by Chief Robert D. Hanna:

"I acknowledge and accept the fact that all that happened November 15 was a result of my own wilful action and to the circumstances in which I placed myself since my arrival in New Castle September 31."

She previously claimed she had been seized, dragged up a flight of dark stairs, beaten, disrobed and attacked, said a man had attempted the act.

Chief Hanna with Detective Moore and McMullen quizzed the witness and he said while he saw the man and the girl talking he did not see the man grab her.

It developed the girl's husband is in the navy and that she left San Francisco, went to Barberton then came to New Castle and has wanted to go back to California.

Today Chief Hanna said the woman was being sent back to her home, hence the allegations she made are disbelieved by the police and the case has been closed.

MILLVILLE, N. J. Nov. 17.—(INS)—Band leader Arthur Lee, 56, and to walk nine years, but it looks like his path at long last will be paved.

Arthur Bowen, a painter, received a postcard from the musician today, concerning a paint job on his porch. When Bowen telephoned Lee, he was puzzled. A second glance at the card showed it bore a 1936 postmark.

Post office employees said the card must have become fastened in the mail box, where it remained for nine years.

Princeton Seniors Present Domestic Comedy To Large Audience

Friday Evening

With a bit player in the person of a small black spaniel stealing the show, "Henpecked Henry," a three-act comedy, was played to a capacity audience in the auditorium of Princeton high school Friday evening by a cast of seniors.

The spunk, which belonged to Beulah Stickle, was really a usurper for the story concerned the troubles of Henpecked Henry while enroute to a convention which turns out to be a fishing trip. In contrast to Henry and his domineering wife is the romantic interest between Henry's daughter and her boy friend.

Twenty Servicemen At Deshon Are Celebrating Birthdays Wednesday, Local Corps To Serve

Birthday cakes for servicemen at Deshon general hospital at Butler are needed by the Canteen Corps of the local Red Cross chapter Wednesday evening, according to Mrs. Russell Allen, chairman of the Canteen Corps.

Twenty of the men at the hospital are celebrating their birthdays Wednesday evening, and the local Canteen Corps is serving. To assist them, the members of the corps are calling for donations of twenty small birthday cakes, large enough for a soldier and his girl friend, and fifteen large cakes for the rest of the men that evening.

Sugar for the cakes may be obtained from the Red Cross by anyone willing to bake one or more of the cakes for Deshon. Those interested may contact the Red Cross chapter house, Mrs. Allen said. The cakes should be delivered to the Red Cross on Wednesday.

Scientists Ask Control Plan For Atomic Energy

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—(INS)—A group representing 90 percent of the atomic bomb scientists called upon President Truman Friday to confer with the British and Russian governments on establishment of a system of international control of atomic energy.

The views of the scientists were disclosed in a resolution made public by two leading atomic scientists, Dr. J. H. Bush, of Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Dr. Francis Bonner, of the Manhattan project, at the news conference in the office of Mrs. Helen Gahagan Douglas (D., Calif.).

This came 24 hours after President Truman, British Prime Minister Clement Attlee and Canadian Premier Mackenzie King issued their joint declaration that the secret of the atomic bomb must be kept as a sacred trust until all nations join in a workable, guaranteed peace.

Urges Conference

The scientists' resolution urged Mr. Truman to call the conference with Britain and Russia immediately.

The meetings, said the resolution, would be held to "discuss the common danger created by atomic weapons and to plan for the joint approach by these three nations to the other members of the United Nations organization to the end of establishing a system of international co-operation and control of atomic energy."

Such action would "prevent a competitive armaments race, safeguard world peace and make available to all peoples the peace-time benefits of atomic energy," the resolution stated.

Farewell Visit

The British prime minister, meanwhile, paid a farewell visit to President Truman before returning to London after the historic atomic conference. MacKenzie King was scheduled to call upon Mr. Truman later in the day prior to his departure for Canada.

The scientists held that any domestic policy instituted by the President and Congress "should provide for scientific freedom and the peace-time utilization of atomic energy in the interests of the whole people."

"Any effort to pursue a foreign policy based on our temporary superiority in atomic weapons, will force other nations as well as our-

Union High Play Entertains Large Audience Friday

Juniors-Seniors Give Comedy Of High School Youngsters Running City Government

Before an appreciative audience, which filled the Union High school auditorium to capacity Friday evening, the junior and senior classes of that school presented a well-rehearsed and fast moving performance of "Accidents Will Happen," a three-act comedy.

Action for the farce takes place in the outer office of the mayor of a western city of medium size during the forenoon of a spring day on which the mayor has left town and the high school students have taken over.

Miss Emma Padon, director of the play, was presented with a gift between acts on behalf of the cast. Another between-acts feature was the playing of the high school band under the direction of Miss Betty Robinson.

Members of the cast, all of whom gave excellent performances, were: Ruth Shofft as the mayor's secretary; Leona Hockett, a girl reporter; William Robinson, the mayor; Irene Dubravsky, a club woman; Robert Brown, president of the city council; Andrew Hammers, the mayor's daughter; Charles Cook, a high school athlete; Elizabeth Cooper, a high school girl; Rosemary LaRosa, the mayor's wife; Dale Dieter, a detective; Robert Rudesill, a New York financier.

On Sunday evening, from 6:30 to 7:30 o'clock, a holy hour for St. Vitus Socialists will be held, and afterwards the Socialists will participate in the solemn closing forty hours services.

Stassen Plans To Become Active In G.O.P. Campaigns

Former Governor Of Minnesota Is Out Of Navy After Long Service

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Herald E. Stassen, former Minnesota governor just out of the navy where he rose to the rank of captain, today set out on an announced campaign to "liberalize" the Republican party.

His program, revealed at a press conference following his discharge from service at Great Lakes, Ill., was interpreted by politicians as the beginning of his drive to capture the GOP nomination for president in 1948.

Stassen shied away from questions concerning the presidential nomination, answering a direct query only with a smile.

He said, however, he would become active in the 1946 congressional campaigns, would visit Europe, Russia and South America and become better informed on international questions.

He would strive, he said, "to make the Republicans the party of the rank and file of labor and agriculture." He added:

"I shall endeavor to strengthen the liberal and progressive viewpoint of the Republican party to do what I can to make it responsible to the men and women who served in the war, and the youth of the nation as a whole."

He does not plan to run for the U. S. senate next year against the incumbent, Henrik Shipstead, of Minnesota, but he said that there definitely will be a progressive GOP opponent to Shipstead.

LT. SAMUEL HADDAD HOME FROM PACIFIC
"Welcome Home Sammy" was the greeting that Second Lieutenant Samuel Haddad, 417 East Long Avenue, read as he entered his father's store Thursday morning, arriving home, following two years overseas duty in the South Pacific area. The Haddads had erected a large sign in front of their store with the inscription to make the homecoming a glad one for their son.

LT. Haddad, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elias Haddad, who has been in service for three years, plans to go to Philadelphia, upon the completion of a furlough here, to receive his discharge.

A brother of Sammy's, Cpl. Richard Haddad, who is stationed in New York City with the army, received a special furlough, so that he could be home when his brother arrived here.

LONG TIME AGO

Many years ago there was a realty company in New Castle known as the Mahoningtown Realty company which covered land in the Clayton street district. The company folded up years ago and left a lot of land with unpaid taxes on it. Eventually the county took over the land for the delinquent taxes, and a year or so ago sold ten lots to Sam Papiano for garden purposes. For the 10 lots the county got $250 which seemed like a fair enough price.

A few days ago Mr. Papiano received word from Harrisburg that he owed $3000 corporation taxes for the land he owned and you can imagine his surprise.

It seems the company had folded up but didn't go to the trouble to tell the commonwealth. Now Mr. Papiano wants to give the land back to the county and get his purchase price back.

If the county takes the land back of course the state won't get that $3000 corporation tax and the county won't get any taxes as the land will be county owned.

It all seems silly, of course.

SENTENCES PASSED

Five sentences were passed Friday morning by Judge W. Walter Graham.

George Blazier was assessed the costs and got 10 to 20 months in the county jail for larceny.

E. P. Ludwig and William Donkin were fined a total of $250 and costs for selling beer without a license and possessing untaxed liquor.

Pete Presnar was fined $100 and costs and 30 days in jail for drunken driving. Out in three days if the fine and costs are paid.

J. Milton Marshall got the same sentence for the same offense.

QUESTIONS DESTRUCTION

"I question," continued King, "whether the atomic bomb as it now exists, can destroy a fleet properly disposed at sea. At Hiroshima, the destruction radius was about a mile and a half. Ships can withstand a greater shock than buildings, so it is reasonable to assume that the destruction action of a bomb exploding above the sea would be less effective against ships within the same radius."

"In the recent war we had to spread out the formations of ships to meet the conditions of air attack. We can readily arrange our formations to insure that not more than one or two ships would likely be lost through attack with an atomic bomb. Such a result would not pay the attacker in view of the great cost of these bombs, and the small amount of material available in the world for making them."

Concentration of ships in ports would have to be avoided in an atomic war, he added, "but the fact remains that the present atomic bomb cannot prevent fleets from operating."

Will Test Atomic Bombs On Ships

Navy Will Attempt To Workout Some Defense Against Atomic Bomb Attacks

USE WAR SHIPS AS GUINEA PIGS

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Admiral Ernest J. King informed Congress today that the navy will test atomic bombs on war ships and then attempt to work out counter measures of defense.

The experiment will be made "in the near future," the admiral said. The chief of naval operation, testifying in favor of universal military training, before the House Military Affairs committee, envisioned only the loss of one or two ships in the event of an atomic attack.

Still Need Large Navy
"The proposition that new weapons have made either the navy or large numbers of trained men unnecessary, are regarded as fallacious—and dangerous to the safety of the United States," King asserted.

Atomic warfare, he conceded, might eventually require the United States to build stronger ships, quite different from those we have."

The answers to some of the questions raised by the development of the atomic bomb, King said, "will be indicated in the near future when we are ready to make tests of the effect of the atomic bomb on ships—we will then strive to work out counter-measures."

Questions Destruction
"I question," continued King, "whether the atomic bomb as it now exists, can destroy a fleet properly disposed at sea. At Hiroshima, the destruction radius was about a mile and a half. Ships can withstand a greater shock than buildings, so it is reasonable to assume that the destruction action of a bomb exploding above the sea would be less effective against ships within the same radius."

"In the recent war we had to spread out the formations of ships to meet the conditions of air attack. We can readily arrange our formations to insure that not more than one or two ships would likely be lost through attack with an atomic bomb. Such a result would not pay the attacker in view of the great cost of these bombs, and the small amount of material available in the world for making them."

Concentration of ships in ports would have to be avoided in an atomic war, he added, "but the fact remains that the present atomic bomb cannot prevent fleets from operating."
